

Greetings from Sardinia

October 2026

The sea is still warm enough to swim before breakfast, the hills smell of myrtle and the village square fills up every evening. Wish you were here.

With love, the whole crew